

AN ECONOMIC AND PURPOSE CLASSIFICATION OF THE BUDGET GUJARAT STATE 2012-13

DIRECTORATE OF ECONOMICS AND STATISTICS GOVERNMENT OF GUJARAT GANDHINAGAR

PREFACE

The Economic and Purpose classification of the state government budget is an attempt to look at the budgetary transactions of the state government according to different economic categories like; consumption expenditure, transfer payments, loans and subsidies, capital formation etc. Also, it looks at these transactions from purpose viewpoint through different purpose or function heads like; general administration, education, social security, housing, economic services etc. It enables further economic analysis of budgetary transactions on pattern of flow of funds into and out of state government. These two types of classification are combined to form an 'Economic cum Purpose Classification'.

This publication is prepared on the basis of the system of Regional Accounts as recommended by the 'Regional Accounts Committee set up by Government of India' in its 'Final Report' on publication of regional accounts.

The Economic Classification as presented in this publication follows the same methodology as adopted by the Economic Division, Department of Economic affairs, Ministry of Finance, Government of India, while the Purpose Classification is prepared by following the methodology broadly indicated in the 'Final Report' of the Regional Accounts Committee.

The data presented in this publication covers transactions for three years viz., 2010-11 (Accounts), 2011-12 (Revised Estimates) and 2012-13 (Budget Estimates).

It is hoped that the analysis presented herein will be useful to administrators and research scholars engaged in the study of budgetary transactions of the State Government. Suggestions towards improvement in the publication will be appreciated.

Gandhinagar.

1 Introduction

- 1.1 The Financial Statement and the demands for grants in a Government budget are drawn up in accordance with the provision of the constitution and the needs of the legislative control. The expenditure in the Government Budget is generally classified department wise in order to secure legislative control and administrative accountability. The budget so presented reveals merely the financial transactions and not the economic and social significance of the transactions. The economic significance of the different items of revenue and expenditure cannot be easily made out directly from the study of budget, because the magnitudes of the budget are detailed and scattered. For instance, from the study of the budget documents, as they are, it is not possible to get a clear idea of capital formation resulting from the budgetary resources, savings of the State Government, Government's contribution in generation of State Domestic Product etc. The budgetary operations of the Government need to be sorted out and reclassified into appropriate economic groups to understand the economic and social effect of government expenditure and revenue. The presentation of budget in this form is called Economic Classification. This classification of the budget yields more detailed information of the government transactions and is useful for evaluating the Government programmes with respect to particular services. It also helps in understanding the nature of the impact of budgetary operations on the State Economy.
- 1.2 Since 1957-58, the Economic Division of the Ministry of Finance, Government of India has been preparing an economic classification of Central Government budgetary transactions as an useful tool of Economic Analysis. On similar lines, the study of the State Government budgetary transactions is undertaken by this Directorate every year and a set of six accounts containing the reclassified data from the State Government Budget is prepared as detailed below:

- Account-I Transactions in Commodities and Services and Transfers: Current Account of Government administration.
- Account-II Transactions in Commodities and Services and Transfers: Current Account of Departmental Enterprises.
- Account-III Transactions in Commodities and Services and Transfers: Capital Account of Government administration and Departmental Enterprises.
- Account-IV Change in Financial Assets:

 Capital Account of Government Administration and Departmental Enterprises.
- Account-V Change in Financial Liabilities:

 Capital Account of Government Administration and Departmental Enterprises.
- Account-VI Cash and Capital Reconciliation of Government Administration and Departmental Enterprises.
- 1.3 The economic classification items of expenditure such as wages & salaries, commodities & services, repairs & maintenance etc. are based on their economic character. The economic classification so presented reveals only the economic magnitudes but does not indicate the purpose of the expenditure. Thus, besides the economic classification, the expenditure of the State Government needs to be classified by the purposes for which the funds are expended e.g. general government services, defence, education, health etc., Therefore, a system has been devised which would reveal the distribution of expenditure for different purposes. The Regional Accounts Committee set up by the Government of India in 1972 has recommended in its Final Report the purpose classification of budgetary transactions into the following major categories:

- (1) General Government Services
- (2) Defence
- (3) Education
- (4) Health
- (5) Social Security and Welfare Services
- (6) Housing and Community Services
- (7) Cultural, Recreational & Religious Services
- (8) Economic Services
- (9) Environmental Protection
- (10) Relief on calamities and other Services

The Economic classification and Purpose classification together form an Economic-cum-Purpose classification. Economic-cum-Purpose classification shows how the expenditure for a particular purpose is distributed among the economic categories and also how the expenditure in a particular economic category is distributed over different purposes.

2. Economic Classification:

- 2.1 A set of six accounts containing the classification of data from the State Government budget, 2012-2013 is given in the statements in Appendix-I. Some important observations emerging from this system of accounts are discussed below.
- 2.2 Total Expenditure: The distribution of total expenditure of the State Government by major categories exclusive of the operating expenditure of departmental enterprises is presented in Table-1.

2.3 Of the total expenditure budgeted for the year 2012-13, the final outlays of the State Government account for about 35 percent. The final outlays include, Government Consumption Expenditure and Gross Capital Formation. The Government Consumption expenditure, in turn comprises of (I) Compensation of employees (i.e. wages & salaries and pension) (ii) Commodities & Services and (iii) repairs and maintenance; while Gross Capital Formation includes (i) buildings and other construction, (ii) machinery & equipments and (iii) net increase in inventories. Of the total expenditure budgeted for the year 2012-13, the transfer payments of the State Government account for about 57 percent. These transfer payments include current transfers as well as capital transfers. The current transfer comprises of (i) interest on loans and other obligations (ii) grants to local bodies, educational institutions (iii) subsidies and (iv) scholarship & stipend etc., while the capital transfer mainly include grants for capital formation to local bodies and others.

2.4 Gross Capital Formation:

- 2.4.1 The State Government's direct gross capital formation (i.e. investments in buildings, public works, equipment and other fixed assets and acquisition of stock) budgeted for the year 2012-13 is Rs. 12168 crore constituting 37.5 percent of the final outlays. The corresponding percentage for the year 2011-12(R.E.) was 38.1 percent and that for the year 2010-11 (Accounts) was 35.1 percent.
- 2.4.2 Taking into account the direct gross capital formation by the Government together with the financial assistance provided by the State Government to the rest of the economy for capital formation, the aggregate capital formation works out as shown in Table-2.

TABLE-2 Gross Capital Formation out of the budgetary resources

2.4.3 From the above table, it is seen that the aggregate provision for gross capital formation for the year 2012-13 is placed at Rs. 32418 crore which is higher than that for the year 2010-11 (Rs.20154 crore) by about 60.9 percent.

2.5 Net Capital Formation:

The net capital formation is arrived at by deducting the provision of renewals and replacements from gross capital formation. The components of the net capital formation are shown in the following table.

2.6 Financial Assistance for Capital Formation:

2.6.1 In addition to the direct net capital formation by the State Government, the rest of the economy is assisted by the State Government for capital formation. The allocation of such assistance in different forms such as grants, loans etc. are indicated in Table-4.

^{*} Assumed as 90 percent of total expenditure on loans and advances as shown in Account-IV.

2.6.2 It may be observed from the table above that the total financial assistance under capital formation for the State Government is Rs. 20250 crore for the year 2012-13 which is higher than that for the year 2010-11 (Rs.13080 crore) by about 54.8 percent.

2.7 Savings:

Gross savings of the State Government comprise the savings of the Government Administration i.e. the surplus of Government current receipts over Government current expenditure and provision for depreciation in the accounts of Government Administration and Departmental Enterprises. Net savings are derived from the gross savings by deducting expenditure on renewals and replacements. The net savings are estimated at Rs. 14027 crore in 2012-13 (B.E.).

2.9 Overall Deficit:

2.9.1 Another measure of deficit is the overall deficit which is obtained from the sum of the balancing items in the Account III and IV . This deficit denotes the total requirement of finance, which the Government has to raise through borrowing or from withdrawals of cash balance etc, for the State Government's operations. The overall deficit is shown in Table : 7.

2.10 Contribution to Income Generation:

The budgetary operations of the State viz. Compensation of employees (Government administration), net output of departmental enterprises (i.e. wages and salaries, interest and profit) and wages and salaries component of Government outlays on construction together generate income in the economy. The budgetary operations of the State Government are expected to generate a total income of Rs. 20496 crore in 2012-13 (B.E.) as compared to Rs. 15924 crore in 2011-12 (R.E.) and Rs 13823 crore in 2010-11 (Accounts).

2.11 Reconciliation:

The reconciliation of the items of revenue and expenditure as given in 'Financial Statement' with the accounts is given in the appended Statements 1.2 to 1.4.

3 ECONOMIC AND PURPOSE CLASSIFICATION:

3.1 A two way classification of the State Government expenditure by both Economic and purpose Categories has been set forth in Statements 3.1 to 3.3. A brief analysis of the purpose classification is given in the following paragraphs.

3.2 Total Expenditure:

- 3.2.1 It is seen from Table-10, given below that of the total expenditure budgeted for the year 2012-13, the provision for Economic Services which covers broadly the total development outlays of the State Government is estimated at Rs. 28122 crore and works out to 30.6 percent of the total expenditure (Rs. 91934 crore).
- 3.2.2 The expenditure on General Government Services is estimated at Rs. 13652 crore for 2012-13 (B.E.) i.e. 14.9 percent of the total expenditure. The 'General Government Service' includes, General Administration, Public Order and Safety, Planning & Statistical Activities and General Research.
- 3.2.3 The expenditure on Education Services is estimated at Rs.17290 crore for 2012-13 (B.E.) which is about 18.8 percent of the total expenditure. The Education Services include Administration, Regulation & Research and School, Universities & institutions.
- 3.2.4 The other services include Civil Defence, Health, Social Security & Welfare, Housing & Other Community Services, Cultural Recreational & Religious Services, Relief on Calamities, Other Miscellaneous Services . These services account for 35.8 percent (Rs.32869 crore) of the total expenditure in 2012-13 (B.E.) i.e. Rs. 91934 crore.
